

Chuck Bonanno No Obit found

Carl Ferhman email: April 26th

Just got a call from His daughter, Beth. He passed today. The wake is:

2-4, 7-9, at: Joseph J. Smith Funeral Home
692 Rte. 6
Mahopac

From Marty telegraph:

Greetings Gang,

By the address' on the e-mails I've gotten it is apparent that most, if not all of you know that Sgt. Chuck Bonanno passed away yesterday. The wake is at Joseph J. Smith Funeral Home, 692 Rt. 6, Mahopac. I did not get the dates but the hours were 2/4 & 7/9 that I think would be today & tomorrow but call and check.

I know that Chuck retired after 1997 probably between '98 & '00. He did 30 years here and he deserved at least 30 in retirement. He was a U.S. Navy Vietnam Veteran and like him or not he deserved longer in his leisure time.

Working with Chuck was a mixed bag, interesting to say the least. My 1st. encounter with Chuck was in the Old Jail Sgt's office and after being in there with him for about 20 minutes I figured we were on "Candid Camera" on in w Woody Allen movie. Drew Forti said it best about Chuck "just because he's paranoid does'nt mean their not after him" and it fit.

In retrospect Chuck was in Sq.2 with Carl Ferhmann and Bob Molitoris when I was re-patriated back to the Jail after 6 weeks as a Sgt. in the Pen. I was in Sq. 1 with Augie Depalma and Tommmy Doyle and the sad part of this is that Augie, Tommy & Chuck are now dead and they deserved better and longer. Tommy & Augie never made it to retirement, at least Chuck did. So when I tell you all to stay healthy I mean it....